SPECIALISTS IN NATURAL ROOFING SLATE AND CLAY TILES

Classic First Mix Grade. Bellway Homes, Chelmsford, Essex.

The Stoneleaf Classic Slate is a natural roof slate with a very similar appearance to blue grey Welsh slate and is approved for use in Snowdonia National Park.

The Stoneleaf Classic has the traditional look of natural slate, whilst being easy to lay due to the excellent selection process at the point of production. This is clearly demonstrated by the regular number of slates per pallet.

The exceptional quality of the sourced rock enables the stoneleaf Classic to be produced in larger formats, up to 600 x 450mm.

The rigorous process to achieve approval for use in Snowdonia National Park looks at whether the slate is a suitable alternative to the indigenous Welsh slate.

The Stoneleaf Classic has been deemed to offer an alternative with equivalent colour, texture and weathering characteristics to Ffestiniog blue grey Welsh slate.

This approval gives specifiers and roofers the confidence in the quality and performance of the slate, knowing it will last a lifetime and still look good to withstand all weather conditions.
